RECOMMENDATIONS TO BE MADE TO CONGRESS

Counsel Whipple of Committee Drops Hints As to Future Action

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The note leak committee this afternoon adjourning to Washington after learning that it might take some time to get stock exchange records.

Recommendations for corrective measures toward Wall Street are practically certain to be the outcome of the probes.

A prominent Democrat, member of the committee, said that questions and veiled hints of congressional action voiced by Attorney Sherman L. Whipple, the committee's counsel, had the definite purpose of furnishing the committee with information on which to make recommendations to Congress.

The committee particularly is after short pools which rig the market and "accentuate" bad news by manipulation.

Likewise, the committee may recommend a change in rules concerning the hypothecon of securities.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24.—One person was killed and several were injured when a "Nickle Plate" passenger train today went through an open switch and crashed into a freight train standing on a siding.

BILL SEEKS $15 YEARLY BUS FEE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Assemblyman Baldwin today introduced a resolution requiring that normal schools give instruction in the best methods of teaching citizenship, physical training, morals, manners and the effects of alcohol and narcotics on the system.

Other bills introduced are for a state bureau of meat hygiene; for state inspection, and a state commission of seven members to investigate the liquor traffic and report at the next legislature.

Burnett introduced a bill fixing the state jitney bus license at $15 yearly.
Merriam introduced a resolution asking Congress to sell several million feet of rip timber in California national forests so that young timber can grow, the money thus realized to be used in flood control work.

LABOR BODY TO TAKE UP MATTER OF BALL PLAYER APPLICATION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Executives of the Federation of Labor announced that baseball players' applications for membership would be considered this afternoon.

Minor league umpires also applied to the Federation for a charter. The executive council will act on the application this week.

SENATOR SEEKS TO SAVE GUIDE'S BEARD

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A new regulation of the superintendent of public buildings and grounds at the national capital, which places a ban on whiskers and heavy beards as adornments for employees of the Capitol building, is hitting hard at one of the finest sets of whiskers in existence—that belonging to Henry Jarvis, a guide. Jarvis carried his whiskers safely through the Civil war and many subsequent experiences and feels that they should not meet their Waterloo before a mere regulation. United States Senator Brandegee of Connecticut takes the same view and has intervened to get Jarvis transferred to another part of the government service where whiskers are not without honor.

FRANCO-SWISS GUARDS OF FRONTIER FRIENDS

PARIS, Jan. 24.—Franco-Swiss frontier guards are the best of friends and frequently trade tobacco or play cards across the boundary line, the French, however, always remaining on their own side to escape internment. At some points a rail fence marks the line.

L. A. WEATHER BUREAU SENDS 'HEAVY FROST' WARNING FOR MORNING

"Heavy frost Thursday morning."
This was the warning sent out today by the weather bureau in Los Angeles and citrus growers in parts of Southern California tomorrow morning will be on guard should the temperature go to the danger point.

According to County Horticultural Commissioner Roy K. Bishop today, this morning's frost was not as severe as yesterday's. Very little smudging was done in Orange county
last night, Commissioner Bishop stated, some orchardists in the lower La Habra and Tustin sections being the only ones to light their fires.

In the colder places of the county the average temperature yesterday morning was 29 degrees, Bishop said.
The temperature this morning was slightly higher.

RIVERSIDE CITRUS BELT UNHARMED BY FROST

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 24.—Reports from here, Redlands, San Bernardino and Pomona today state that no fruit was damaged by last night's frost, which was not as severe here as earlier frosts. Fruit was practically undamaged through this belt.

TENTATIVE BILL OF COUNTY PAY INTRODUCED

Measure Is Subject to Amendment During Second Session of Legislature

According to word from Sacramento, Assemblyman J. C. Burke has introduced a bill for changing some of the provisions of the county government act that regulates the salaries and number of deputies of county officers of this county.

It is understood that the bill as introduced makes but few changes from the county government act now in force, but by introducing the bill now there is opportunity given for amending it at the second session of the legislature, and it is through amendments that the final decision as to what changes shall be made will be reached.

OPEN CAMPAIGN TO LIMIT COTTON CROP

FORT SMITH, Ark., Jan. 24.—The extension division of the University of Arkansas, in co-operation with the demonstration forces of the government and state, opened a campaign to limit the 1917 cotton acreage in Arkansas. The campaign will cover two-thirds of the state. Farmers will be urged to plant more food crops and less cotton.

'AMATEUR NIGHT' PLAN OF TOMMIES DECIDES WINNERS IN SINGING

LONDON, Jan. 25.—"Amateur night" methods are used to decide the winners of singing competitions behind the lines in France. The ranks comprise hundreds of mellow voices and the man greeted by the loudest and longest applause gets the money.

WILSON PLAN IS SUPPORTED IN GERMANY, IS BERLIN WORD

Gerard Cables Lansing Private Information Regarding Teuton Views

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Copies of President Wilson's speech, delivered in the Senate Monday, outlining his plan for a world peace league, today were telegraphed to the Kaiser and Field Marshal von Hindenburg, now at the front.

United States Ambassador Gerard held a conference with officials at the foreign office and then put on the cables a confidential outline of what he regarded to be the general German impressions. Ambassador Gerard's message was addressed to Secretary Lansing.

From all that can be determined,
the German public and press are favorably impressed with President Wilson's speech.

Wilson Declarations Held Steps Toward Peace

It is being pointed out today by men high in responsible positions that President Wilson's declarations are a long step toward that peace for which the people of the world are longing.

Informal discussion of the speech by foreign office officials, however, developed the belief that it will be impossible for Germany to take official cognizance of the address.

Men upon whose shoulders rest the burdens of many of Germany's most vital administrative affairs have no hesitation in expressing satisfaction over President Wilson's argument for the "freedom of the seas." From the very first, it is remembered, Germany has insisted that this question is the biggest one involved in the war.

Independent Poland Idea Already Supported

Some officials also point out that Germany has favored an independent Poland, as President Wilson suggested in his speech.

Except for a small group of conservative Socialists, President Wilson's ideas are being supported.
The belief is that Ambassador Gerard likewise found the impression at the foreign office favorable.

MONROE DOCTRINE PLAN WORRIES S. AMERICA

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 24.—Advises reaching here today from many points show that South America generally is delaying its verdict on President Wilson's speech in the Senate Monday, pending a fuller understanding of the objects sought.

Almost wholly unexpectedly, an unwillingness to forego an extension of the principle of the Monroe Doctrine is being manifested, because its extension is construed as implying an abandonment of the doctrine and this is a source of anxiety here.

So far as the purely peace efforts of President Wilson are concerned, an overwhelming majority favors the American executive's suggestions and newspapers are a unit in declaring that it is the duty of all neutrals to support President Wilson's work.

SUFFRAGE LEADERS BACK WILSON PEACE PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Approving particularly the phrase, "Government by the consent of the governed," Mrs.
Walter McNab Miller, president of the National Women's Suffrage Association, and Alice Paul, national chairman of the Congressional Union, today said that women everywhere will give the heartiest support to President Wilson's suggested league to enforce peace. They said:

"In the future, heretofore silent masses everywhere must have the right to say they shall give their blood for their country, and when they shall stop pouring it. Women in this terrible conflict not only are making the same sacrifices they always did, but they have added to their burdens by taking up the work left by men when the latter marched off to the blood-soaked trenches."

WOMAN NAMED CLERK OF SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Can a woman keep a secret?
The Foreign Relations Committee of the United States thinks so. The committee has chosen for the first time in history a woman as the clerk of the committee. This is an important post. Her name is Miss Jessie L.
Simpson—business woman extraordinary.

Her nomination carries with it the privilege of the floor of the senate, enjoyed by but one other woman in history, Miss Leona Wells, clerk of the military committee.

Miss Simpson was nominated for the clerkship by Chairman Stone, and received the unanimous vote of the committee, of which she has been acting clerk for six months.

British Score Victory in Sea Grapple Teuton Loss in Destroyer Duel Heavy

THE new German raider, believed to be the warship Vineta, which has been at large in the south Atlantic for some weeks, has so far as heard from sunk between ten and twenty merchant vessels of Great Britain and France. The Voltaire of the Lamport & Holt Line, plying between England and New York, was due in December. Now it is learned she was sunk. The German vessel so far has done damage of many million dollars, and escaped from the whole British navy.

Germans Lose More Men, Suffer More Punishment Than Enemy During North Sea Engagement, Unofficial Versions Show; Berlin Claims Losses Slight

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Persistent reports coming from Holland today are to the effect that from six to ten German destroyers were sunk in the naval engagement of Monday.

There was no change today in the last British Admiralty announcement which declared that one German destroyer had been sunk and a British destroyer demolished.

It is reported that another German destroyer, badly damaged, was sighted steaming for the coast of Holland.

Dutch correspondents say that German sailors declare that at least seven ships were sunk.

Germans Sustain Light Loss, Says Berlin

An official statement, issued in Berlin today, says that one British destroyer was sunk and that one German torpedo boat, damaged, has reached a Dutch harbor. The rest of the German vessels returned with slight losses, according to the Berlin statement.

Unofficial versions of Monday night's North Sea battle today indicate that the British inflicted a severe defeat upon the German destroyer flotilla.

Officially, the score stands one to one, both sides losing a destroyer, but it is known that the enemy lost more men and were hit more often and with more effect.

Dutch May Interv V-69; Sailors on Guard

Holland today is considering interning the German destroyer V-69 which reached Ymuiden barely afloat. Dutch sailors are keeping a careful guard over the destroyer and her crew.

The bulk of the British flotilla centered a terrific fusillade upon the V-69, one of the most powerful of the German torpedo boat destroyers. This took place during the second engagement. The damage inflicted upon the V-69 was frightful.

The belief in Amsterdam is that the German flotilla deliberately sought out the British craft, intending that the resulting engagement would result in screening the arrival or departure of one or more German raiders.

GARRISON MISTAKES DANE STEAMER FOR RAIDER

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 24.—The garrison of the port at Santa Cruz fired on the Danish steamer Hammershus, following the report that the vessel had received a quantity of war munitions from the German craft in the harbor and was trying a secret dash to sea. The Hammershus' captain was able to give a satisfactory explanation of his movements in the harbor.

cans among the prisoners on the Yar-

ROVER'S PRISON SHIP SAILS FOR NEW YORK

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 24.—Closely hugging the coast and with look-outs posted, the Japanese steamer Hudson Maru, the German raider's "prison ship," this morning left Pernambuco for New York. All precautions will be taken during the trip to prevent the Hudson Maru's recapture.

All the raider's prisoners, landed at Pernambuco from the Japanese ship, have been furnished transportation to their homes by the consuls representing the nations of which they are subjects.

SAYS CAL. DEMANDS ON U. S. TREASURY BAR TO INCOME TAX CUT PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Congressman Itaney, member of the Ways and Means committee today said that congress will welcome the California suggestion to limit federal taxing of income and inheritances if California also obtain a limitation of state demands on the nation. He said that California's demand for building roads, etc., has been as great as any state's demands on the federal treasury.

"As I understand it, this would provide a situation where we might have to go to war to get peace."

Shafroth urged that something concrete be presented to the senate for action on a general debate on the President's speech is started.

Weeks said that President Wilson used the Senate as a "megaphone through which he addressed the world."

general offices of the Southern Pacific today issued orders to engineers lights whenever they see a deer on the track at night. They say that the lights seemingly keep the deer on a track until they die.

NATIONS' COURT TO HALT WARS IS URGED BY SHAFROTH IN RESOLUTION

Discussion of the President's Speech Would Mean Extra Session, Say Democrats

EXECUTIVE'S ADDRESS PLAYED BY SHERMAN

'An Attempt to Make Senate Accept Any Treaty,' Asserts Solon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The senate today failed to act on Senator Cummins' resolution for an open debate on President Wilson's peace address. This followed two hours of bitter discussion.

Senator Stone sought to refer the resolution to the foreign relations committee, holding the resolution as unwise.

The resolution is now on the calendar and can be called up by Cummins who says that he will call it up at every chance.

If he does an extra session seems likely.

Cummins contends that President Wilson's proposal is vastly more important than pending legislation.

Senator Sherman, denouncing President Wilson's speech, called it a stump speech from the throne freestalling public opinion and an attempt to make the senate accept any treaty he might make.

Shafroth Urges World Court of Nations

After Stone recommended referring the motion to the foreign relations committee, Shafroth approved this,
and introduced a resolution advocating an international court with power to enforce decrees. The Shafroth resolution provides that each nation be represented by from two to five judges and that each is to contribute from its naval and military forces to enforce the court's decrees. This resolution brought Gallinger to his feet, and he said:

"As I understand it, this would provide a situation where we might have
to go to war to get peace."

Shafroth urged that something concrete be presented to the senate for
action on a general debate on the President's speech is started.

Weeks said that President Wil-
son used the Senate as a "megaphone
through which he addressed the
world."

Lewis Against Senate Debate On Speech

Lewis questioned the advisability of a general discussion of world peace now on the grounds that it "might seriously embarrass any foreign government in any reply they might wish to make to the President's address."

"The Democrats' principal argument against setting aside a special day for a debate of the address, is the 'danger' of tying up legislation to a point where a special session would be necessary."

RECORD DEFENSE BILL REPORTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The fortifications bill was today reported to the House. It totals $21,000,000, the largest sum ever proposed. It also authorizes additional expenditures of over $9,000,000, $23,000,000 more than last year. It provides for coast defense, an aerial squadron, moveable railway armament, eight aeroplane squadrons and emplacements for additional 12-inch guns, and also light and power plants for San Diego and Los Angeles fortifications.

CHINESE HIDES MAY MAKE SHOES FOR U. S.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The development of railways into the interior of China is opening the way for marketing of large quantities of hides which in past years have not reached the outside world because of inadequate transportation facilities. Advice received at the Department of Commerce says that largely increased imports of hides from China may be expected in this country. This movement, it is believed, may check the soaring prices of American shoes, particularly on the Pacific coast.

At present the Chinese hide industry is badly organized, but improvements are to be instituted which will assist materially in making the hides acceptable in the United States.

HEADS OF BAND OF AUTO THIEVES IN CUSTODY, BELIEF

Men Who Robbed Ford Garage Brought to Orange County Jail Yesterday

In the two young men whom Los Angeles officers arrested Saturday for the theft of an automobile from the Ford Garage Friday night, it is believed the officers have two of the cleverest members of a gang of auto thieves operating in all parts of Southern California.

When arrested the men gave their names as Bobbie Northrop and Frank Spencer and their place of residence as Santa Ana. Later developments have satisfied officers that they are from the East and that they have been responsible for many burglaries in different parts of the country.

City Marshal Jernigan and Chas. Davis of the Ford Sales and Service Company went to Los Angeles yesterday to get the car and prisoners. The men are now in the county jail.

Northrop admitted to Detective Ervin of Los Angeles, following the arrest, that they were the men who robbed the local garage Friday night, and described the method of gaining entrance to the garage and operations after entering. Northrop talks freely. Spencer is as dumb as an oyster. Northrop yesterday, in a measure, denied that he had confessed the crime.

In order to get the car they took, the thieves had to move several machines on the floor of the garage. They got it outside after filling the gasoline tank, during which they made considerable noise which they were afraid would lead to their detection, started the engine and sped away. It is generally believed that a stool pigeon had arranged for the sale of the car before it was stolen.

The thieves were arrested by Detective Ervin before he even knew that a car had been stolen here. The machine was found on West 39th street, Los Angeles, Saturday morning. The actions of the men excited the suspicion of the detective, and in co-operation with Detectives Fred Lowe and J. W. Powell of the Auto Club of Southern California, he took them into custody.

Northrop and Spencer proved to be men Los Angeles officers had had under suspicion for some time.

License numbers taken from a Chalmers belonging to Frank Hammett, local agent for the Chalmers, were ditched somewhere in Los Angeles. Northrop told the officers they had been buried on 39th street, and Jernigan and Ervin spent a couple of hours yesterday trying to locate the missing plates. Northrop was with Before leaving Los Angeles yesterday afternoon, Northrop requested that he be driven to the postoffice, as he was expecting a letter. He received a letter and photo from a young lady in Greenville, Texas. The letter was signed by the first name of the girl. Northrop refused to tell her last name.

TWENTY-NINE WILL BECOME FRESHERS

ORANGE, Jan. 24.—Graduation exercises in the mid-year class from Intermediate school into high school were held yesterday afternoon in the assembly room, a class of twenty-nine boys and girls receiving the promotion. County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell presented the diplomas, after a short encouraging talk to the class.

Preceding the graduating exercises an operetta, "On Plymouth Rock," was presented by the class, assisted by the orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Edna Bar Love, musical director of the school. The playlet was one of particular charm, the effective costumes, which were all made under the supervision of Miss Clark, domestic science teacher, creating no small part in the entertainment.

Names of the boys and girls who have successfully completed the course and will take up high school duties at once are:

PRIMARY BALLOT BATTLE STAGED AT POLY STIRS STUDENTS

Another Election Not Needed As Three Candidates Poll Enough Votes

One of the most interesting school elections ever held at Poly was held yesterday afternoon during advisory period when the primaries were staged. The school at large voted on nine offices and three candidates proved successful in polling enough votes to guarantee their election without going through the trouble of another election. Where more than two persons were voted on, the two leading candidates will be voted on in the final election to be held Friday.

Many improvements over last year's arrangements have been completed, and the second annual flower show, under the auspices of the Woman's Club of Orange, promises to be second to none of its proportions in the Southland.

STATE WILL PAY $3,000 SHARE OF CHAPMAN BRIDGE

Highway Commission Agrees to Stand Cost of Structure At West End

At a meeting of the State Highway Commission yesterday a resolution was passed by which the commission agrees to pay one-tenth of the cost of the West Chapman Street bridge, crossing the Santa Ana river. The state's share will amount to about $3,000.

When the state highway was established through this county the state was given a deed to the strip up to the end of the wooden bridge then across the river on West Chapman. The county agreed to replace the wooden bridge with a reinforced concrete bridge. Last winter the storms washed out most of the bridge and also fifty-seven feet of the west approach. That fifty-seven feet was upon ground that had been deeded to the state.

The concrete bridge is now nearing completion, and the question of construction over the fifty-seven feet of state land was not settled until yesterday. The state found that it could either pay for the bridging or could pay for putting back the fill. Plainly the bridge should be extended, and the proposal of the county to have the structure completed to include the portion of the strip owned by the state was accepted.

The present indications are that H. Clay Kellogg, the contractor, will have the West Chapman bridge open for traffic by March 1.

INACTIVITY CAUSES CONSTIPATION
Lack of exercise in the winter is a frequent cause of constipation. You feel heavy, dull and listless, your complexion is sallow and pimply, and energy at low ebb. Clean up this condition at once with Dr. King's New Life Pills, a mild laxative that relieves the congested intestines without gripping. Bethlehem's Bid on Shells for the United States Navy

To the American People:

The Secretary of the Navy has awarded contracts amounting to over $3,000,000 to a British bidder for 14 and 16-inch projectiles for the Navy, for the reason that the British firm offered prices very much below those of American manufacturers, including ourselves.

We know nothing of the basis upon which the British bids were made, but the public is entitled to know the facts upon which we ourselves bid for this work.

Two years ago we took contracts to make 4,200 14-inch shells at a price of $1,515, 000 (with heavy penalties for delayed delivery). Despite the fact that all our experience and facilities have been strained to fulfill these contracts, up to now not a single shell has been accepted by the Government, although, on the work already done

We have expended in wages, materials, etc. $447,881
Expended in making tests for the Government $75,000

Making our total actual expenditure up to date $522,881

And we have not received a SINGLE DOLLAR on these contracts

In addition literal enforcement of the contract might involve payment of penalties for delayed delivery already amounting to $678,016.

Navy Department tests are now so severe that neither we nor, so far as we know, any other manufacturers have yet been able to produce in quantity 14-inch shells which will meet them.

In the light of our experience, and having no other basis, we bid for 16-inch shells approximately the same rate per pound as that upon which the Navy Department actually awarded a 14-inch shell contract one year ago.

WHY STUDY?
President Wilbur of Stanford University is evidently a Philistine. Not only does he still cling to the back-number notion that students should study, but he actually judges college fraternities by the amount of learning they do. Really he seems to think that highbrows are worthy to associate with regular fellows. And, worst of all, he says that "the real test of a fraternity's value, both to its individual members and to the university as a whole, lies in its ability to hold and graduate a fair proportion of its men each year."

What is President Wilbur thinking of? Does he not know that the "real test of a fraternity's value" lies in its ability to get and to hold the sort of men whom student opinion, not faculty opinion, regards as desirable? And since when was scholarship ranked among the undergraduate desiderata? Scholarship is the thing which professors are hired to impose on students against their will. A professor, therefore, is to be forgiven for imagining that scholarship is respectable; that is his business. But a student is ranked by his success in doing the things which originate from the student side. Wherefore undergraduate muscle is respectable, if undergraduate scholarship is not—for muscular effort proceeds from the student and is not imposed by the faculty. It is even respectable to stay home nights and to be circumspect of habits while training for the team. But why do such things while grinding (or whatever it is this year's studentese for "studying") for examination? Personality counts in the undergraduate world; social, political or athletic leadership; money, clothes, manners, family. Why not? Do not these things count outside? But scholarship! That is for professors.

Of course President Wilbur is right, as everybody knows, except four classes of people. But inasmuch as these four classes are freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, the president's task of making scholarship respectable is going to be a long, slow one.—Fresno Republican.

LOCAL OPTION
"When the friends of booze argue about local option, sincere persons are going to say that local option would work better if the liquor interests would permit it to work, and would not use the machinery of the federal government, as they do, to defeat the purposes of various states and counties which have gone dry. Moreover, if prohibition can be adopted successfully as a nation-wide rule by Russia and by France, why not by the United States? If Paris and Petrograd can get along without booze, why not New York? And if those countries adopt prohibition under the pressure of a necessity to achieve a maximum moral and physical efficiency, why shouldn't we do it as part of the policy of preparedness?"—From January 20th Collier's.

WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE

By Henry James

Literary Standards.
According to Life, Jack London was not so good a writer as he should have been, "considering his opportunities." What opportunities? But for the genius that was the essence of London he would have had no opportunities whatever. The environment which he battered down, and from which with splendid grasp he rested opportunity, would to another less highly endowed have been an insuperable wall, the very first attempt to pass it a manifest folly.

London was born to poverty and ignorance. The first he conquered wholly. Over the second he achieved magnificent conquest, and yet it was not to be supposed that in the mere art of writing he could compete with others bred in the atmosphere of culture.

Life says that Howells as a writer is better than London was. I hold that such comparison is not only unfair but meaningless. The two were not in any sense competitors; they labored in different fields. The triumph of London was distinctive. It lifted him into a separate class where he stood virtually alone.

He conveyed the idea he sought to convey. He reached the people he had sought to reach. He had a message and he delivered it. Or, as he might have said, he "put it across."

What more may any writer do?

Witness Lawson
When Lawson took the witness stand, with bated breath throughout the land we waited so's to catch for sure the mighty words he'd utter. Then found, somewhat to our disgust, The fellow's hot air tank had burst. And all the words that he employed he'd picked from out the gutter.

Judicial Authority
A jury returns a verdict of guilty. The evidence has warranted such a verdict.

The judge solemnly passes sentence, and then remarks, "Sentence suspended." The full meaning of all this is that prosecutors have wasted their time, that twelve men in the box have been bamboozled, that the prisoner has hired an attorney whose services were not needed, and that a criminal goes unpunished.

How much cheaper were the court to remark to the prosecutor in advance of the fateful of choosing a jury: "Nothing doing. Turn the gentleman loose."

Delights of War
Germany's under-secretary of the interior informs his countrymen that even with immediate peace they would have to go on short rations for at least a year.

Still there is no need to fret over this anomalous hardship, as there is no sign of immediate peace.

Discovering Remedies
The public is cheered ever and anon by the announcement of discovery of a remedy for something that ails it. Now this is consumption, now paresis, or the humble yet annoying itch. Yet individuals keep right on dying or scratching. The remedy never seems to stay discovered.

Ghosts
A correspondent sends over a tale that the "white lady of the Hohenzollerns" has been seen again.

Why the ghost story just at a time when there are so many facts to be about?

Too High

Perhaps, however, there was a typographical error. He'd have been dear at $2.

FUGITIVES' AVENUE OF ESCAPE TO EUROPE IS NOW THING OF PAST

LONDON, Jan. 24.—American fugitives from justice can't escape to Europe any more. They have to prove too many things about themselves that it is inconvenient to prove before they can get either in or out.

Probably the only Americans arriving in Europe now-days without first asking permission of Uncle Sam, are, occasionally, sailors who ship out of American ports under careless skipper. As soon as they set foot on European shores they are arrested and held until their ship leaves for a neutral port.

But the old pre-war brand of extradition, which provided its almost daily yarn for American and European papers, is dead.

Clune's Theater
The strange life drama of Mercedes, a beautiful Spanish girl, wrongfully held in slavery, is told in "The Bride of Hate," Triangle play which will be seen at Clune's Theater Friday and Saturday. Mercedes is introduced by Dr. Duprey Duprez, a southern planter, to his friends as a creole girl, his object being to use her in a plan of revenge against Paul Crenshaw, who has betrayed the doctor's niece and caused her to suicide. Crenshaw falls in love with Mercedes and marries her, after which Duprez reveals the girl's negro blood. Crenshaw, ostracized by society, meets a violent end, after which the doctor finds he himself has made a terrible mistake, the girl being as white as he is. But Mercedes forgives him, and there is a promise of great happiness for both at the close.

"Twin Beds" Here Next
Next Monday is the date of "Twin Beds" at the Grand Opera House. Not to know a lot about "Twin Beds" is to confess oneself woefully ignorant of the biggest hit on the English speaking stage today. It ran for one solid year in New York, played for six months in Australia and has already reached its second year in London. For over a year American, English, Canadian and Australian magazines, periodicals and newspapers have been filled with "Twin Beds" and the millions who have witnessed its performances, both in America and abroad, have been talking about it and telling their friends to be sure and see it. Taking account of all this, it really seems as if everybody must have heard of "Twin Beds" and having heard will welcome it with a smile of satisfaction.

EMPLOY BUREAU GIVEN PRAISE FOR WORK

E. J. Sullivan Here Interviewing Employers of All Kinds of Labor

Edward J. Sullivan of the State Public Employment Bureau of Los Angeles is in the city spending a few days interviewing employers. He says his purpose is to impress on employers the duty they owe to the state, to themselves and employees by patronizing the bureau. Sullivan is enthusiastic over the results achieved by the state bureau during the first year of their existence. The figures presented by him as furnished by Commissioner of Labor John P. McLaughlin, tell their own story.

During 1916 the state bureau filled 46,716 positions, and saved employees about $93,000 in fees. The Joint State-City Los Angeles offices in 1916 filled 59,353 positions, which means a total saving to working men and women of at least $200,000. When the bureau was created it was estimated that they would find positions for 10,000 applicants, a prediction that has surpassed all calculations.

The bureau are situated in Los Angeles, Oakland, San Francisco and Sacramento. It is probable that others will soon be established in Eureka, Fresno, Bakersfield, San Jose, Santa Barbara, San Diego and San Bernardino.

During the year 9,854 employers used the state employment bureau. Of these 1,550 were in Los Angeles.

The following figures show how the positions were distributed: Agriculture, 4379; building and construction, 5,366; clerical, 379; hotels and restaurants, 5,787; lumber and timber trades, 1,535; metals and machinery, 954; mining, oil and quarries, 840; private homes, 2,757; transportation and public utilities, 9,829; wholesale and retail trades, 1,405; miscellaneous, 11,621.

"The foregoing facts," said Sullivan, "conclusively demonstrates the wisdom of Governor Johnson and Labor Commissioner John P. McLaughlin in establishing the public employment bureau. The success they have met with has been nothing short of marvelous. Commissioner McLaughlin has proven his great executive ability and organizing capacity and has built up a loyal and efficient organization which is highly creditable to him. He is one of the ablest men in the service of this state."

WEST END SIGNS UP CONTRACTS TO GET BIG FILMS OF '17

This week Manager L. A. Schlesinger of the West End Theater signed up contracts in Los Angeles that assure him a splendid choice of films for 1917. He says that he is going to have a consistently better program than he has ever had. The West End already had a contract for Paramount Pictures. This week Schlesinger signed up for his choice of the Greater Vitaphone pictures for the next fifty-two weeks as well as his choice of the Kleine-Edison-Selig-Essanay productions.

Schlesinger proposes to establish as his usual custom four changes a week, a show for Sunday and Monday, another Tuesday and Wednesday, another Thursday and Friday and another Saturday.

The West End has also made a change in its musical arrangements whereby Erwin Doyle is at the piano and Mrs. Mills is playing the violin.

When properly made with Crisco pies are delicious. There is nothing tough or leathery about them.

Crisco is the cream of edible oil, tasteless and odorless, all vegetable and easy to digest. It helps in the preparation of wholesome foods.

MOTHERS' MEETING

White Ribboners Hear of Thrift Subjects At Their Meeting Yesterday

"Live Within Your Income and Save," was the theme of a most interesting meeting of the Santa Ana W. C. T. U. held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. L. A. White at the home of Mrs. A. J. Crookshank, 620 Spurgeon street. Mrs. A. J. Jones led the devotional service. "This was a mothers' meeting and was led by Mrs. Anna Hill, who has always been a booster of mothers' meetings, and the success of these meetings held by the W. C. T. U. several times during the year is largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Hill.

The subject was "Thrift," or "Children and Money," and was ably discussed in general. Miss Emily Cox read an interesting article on "Thrift." Mrs. Hill spoke on the "Responsibilities of Mothers," and read a number of articles on the subject of Thrift, was to live within your income and save. Mrs. Deering read an interesting article. A number present spoke on some phase of the subject.

Mrs. Hill announced that there would be a gold medal contest held on Wednesday evening, January 31, in the Intermediate school auditorium.

The contest will be free and an invitation is extended to everybody who is interested. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

A banquet for the young people who are interested in temperance work is to be given at 6 o'clock in the church. This banquet is free to all young people interested in the work. A call from the national president to hold a prayer meeting on Thursday, January 20, for national prohibition was observed by the Santa Ana unions and was well attended.

Pretty Roof Garden Party

Gay colored Japanese lanterns illuminated the pretty scene and behind the Japanese screen, dainty tables decorated with bouquets of pink and white carnations and maidenhair fern, awaited the serving of refreshments which carried out the prevailing tint of a social affair given Monday evening to her friends by Miss Edna Meyer at the Meyer Apartments roof garden. The evening was passed with sewing, chatting and music.

Miss Mamie Rummell of Los Angeles, assisted the hostess in serving, covers being laid for Misses Mildred Britton, Irene Craemer, Esther Fluor, Alice Huntington, Emily Lykke, Helene McNeill, Gertrude Potts and Grace White.

An invitation to meet next time with Miss Gertrude Potts was accepted with pleasure.

ACROSTIC TO JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY

Joyous and free your spirit now
As we weave garlands for your brow,
Minds of the loving, pure and true
Eternally our faith renew;
So life can never cease for you.
Within our world you wove a spell
Harmonious as a silver bell;
Intrinsic worth ruled heart and soul
To help men find the perfect goal;
Comrade most true to youth or age,
Open life's book at any page;
Minstrel of songs of common ken,
Bringing both smiles and tears to men.
Royal the crown you are wearing there
In the sunbright realms of the upper air;
Lonely the paths where your fond feet strayed,
Each glade and glen where in youth you played—
You in the sunlight and we in the shade.

TO HONOR SISTER

Mrs. Frank Remsberg Hostess to Auction Bridge Club For Mrs. John Cole

Mrs. John M. Cole of Springfield, O., who spent such a happy winter here last year with her sister, Mrs. Frank Remsberg, has again sought the sunny Southland to escape the rigors of the East and yesterday Mrs. Remsberg entertained the Auction Bridge Club in her honor.

A delicious luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, a pretty green and white motif adding to the attractiveness of the animated scene. The centerpiece was fashioned of maiden hair fern and huckleberry foliage and the greenery occupied large low bowls about the home.

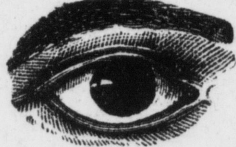

Auction bridge swiftly passed away the afternoon hours and the trophies went to Mrs. J. W. Tubbs and Mrs. B. E. Turner.

Besides Mrs. Remsberg and Mrs. Cole, there were present Meses J. S. Rice, Sherman Stevens, R. E. Reid, S. M. Nau, B. E. Turner, J. P. Hatzfeld, Alice Harris, W. E. Winslow, A. H. Lyon, J. W. Tubbs, W. H. Spurgeon, R. M. Simon, J. R. Porter, Knowles and Miss Rosa Boyd.

Girls Make Merry
Miss Pauline Reid was the hostess at a merry little gathering on Saturday evening at the apartments of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Reid at the Meyer. The affair was in honor of Miss Mercedes Conover, who is here from the East and a guest of the Reids.

The young folks spent the evening dancing in the parlor, Mrs. Reid being the chaperone and later took the girls to the Vienna for refreshments.

Besides the hostess and her mother, there were present Meses Dorothy and Mary Hendrie, Beulah White, Violet Campbell and Maydelle Jernigan.

LONG LIFE RECIPES

Dr. Charles E. Barker Entertains Huge Audience, How To Live 100 Years

Mix the dough of life with the milk of human kindness; sprinkle copiously with the baptismal water of the religion of the Golden Rule; shorten with the elbow grease of thorough kneading—to this bread add a simple common-sense diet, devoid of the flavor of bitterness of drugs, plenty of well-ordered exercise, and you have the recipe of "how to live one hundred years," as given by Dr. Charles E. Barker at the Grand last evening.

This number of the Lyceum course, which has proven of so great interest to representative Santa Ana audiences, was one of the most instructive in the schedule. Dr. Barker was the physical trainer for ex-President Taft, and is an entertaining and well-informed lecturer. The fact that he is a physician makes his information all the more reliable and the advice given has been tried out in his own life.

The speaker divided his subject, "How to Live One Hundred Years," into five points, beginning with the announcement that nearly all diseases are the result of impure blood. If the laws of hygiene and health are followed, one need never be sick.

He explained the method of chest and lung expansion and recommended body rubs to open up pores to let waste matter out of the system.

He digressed enough from his subject to make a ringing plea for prohibition in California and air his views on this world-engrossing subject.

Patent medicines received a solar plexus dig. Dr. Barker stated that if it were not for the great use of these patent drugs, there would not be so much work for physicians and dared any of his hearers to stand and give testimony of any marvelous cures which they had experienced. Nothing was heard but laughter.

Dr. Barker stated that through investigations made, the Bulgars were the longest-lived of any nation, some being over 125 years of age.

The speaker gave many valuable hints as to diet in cases of intestinal sluggishness and illustrated his exercises by going through with them on the stage. Charts were distributed to the audience after the lecture.

The evening's entertainment was opened by two enjoyable selections by the girls' high school glee club, with Miss Blanche Hill at the piano and Miss Mary Elv directing.

Prof. E. H. McMath announced the coming of Edward Vance, poet, on February 13. He will give a lecture reading in the evening at Intermediate auditorium.

The next number of the Lyceum will be Schickler's orchestra, which gave so much pleasure at the recent Chautauqua, on February 21.

An evening of great pleasure to their friends was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. George R. Wells of 806 North Ross street. The company first attended the West End Theater, where they enjoyed a good program.

Festoons of ferns studded with scarlet carnations extended from the chandelier and tiny flags waved about from various points of vantage.

On the refreshment table, the favored were tiny blue hatched tied with red and white ribbons and the place cards were hand-painted in holly. The mints were red, green and white in color.

His Back Hurt When He Stopped
"Just the one box of Foley Kidney Pills relieved my backache."—J. W. Etris, Etris, Ga.
"Last year I was suffering with a terrible backache," writes J. W. Etris of Etris, Ga. "Every time I'd lean or stoop over or to one side, I'd have a painful catch in my back just over my kidneys. I tried medicines with no good results. I bought a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and just the one box entirely relieved my backache. It has been some time since I took them, so I think I am well."

Weakness, overworked, stopped-up kidneys cause stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatism, sleep disturbing bladder ailments, biliousness and various other ills. Foley Kidney Pills are a scientific medicine, compounded to clear the kidneys and restore them to healthy action by dissolving and driving out of the system the waste products and poisons that cause kidney trouble and bladder ailments. You will like their tonic and restorative action, ready effect and quick good results.

ROCKS THROWN UPON SHEETIRON DISTURBS REVIVAL MEETINGS

T. B. Smith, who is conducting a series of revival meetings in a sheetiron building west of the Public Library, has reported that the prayers and sermons at that place have frequently been disturbed by boys who have thrown rocks upon the roof. The rocks make considerable noise. Last night injury was almost added to insult, for a rock crashed through a window and almost hit a man on the head. The police have been asked to watch for the boys.

CONSIDERING CHANGE IN PROHIBITION LAW

Amendment to the local prohibition ordinance which will probably be made in the near future by the city council will prohibit the sale of alcohol except on a physician's prescription.

City Marshal Jernigan and City Attorney Scott are collecting copies of ordinances of other Southern California towns, with a view to getting pointers on how this problem is handled in other cities. Practically all allow the sale of alcohol only on a physician's prescription.

The present ordinance of Santa Ana permits drug stores to sell to anyone on statement of its intended use, the sale to be recorded in a book kept for the purpose.

The matter will probably come before the council at its next meeting.

CITY PLANNING
IS ADVOCATED
BY R. L. BISBYG. A. R. Dept. Leaders Guests of Honor At Today's M.
& M. Luncheon

Advocating a movement toward planning the Santa Ana of the future as an architect plans a building that is to be constructed, R. L. Bisby today delivered an interesting talk at the weekly luncheon of the M. & M., held at James' Cafe.

With music by Milton Foster and Edward Burns enlivening the early portion of the luncheon, a comedy skit was staged by Chairman Bisby, J. W. Flagg and Secretary Metzgar, in which a heated argument over the duties of the secretary was held.

Present as guests today were E. A. Leavitt, department commander of the G. A. R., and John H. Roberts, department adjutant, who are in Santa Ana today holding annual inspection of Sedgwick Post, G. A. R. A number of Santa Ana veterans were with them. Present also as a guest was L. A. Palmer, mineral examiner for the United States Land Office.

Chairman Bisby called upon Commander Leavitt and Adjutant Roberts, both of whom responded ably and with wit. Adjutant Roberts recounted that sixty years ago he was wrecked off the Southern California coast in a catamaran that brought death to over 400 people. Other reminiscences proved interesting.

E. H. McMath, retiring principal of the high school, briefly expressed his appreciation of the treatment accorded him while head of the high school.

On City Planning

"The first step in the future growth of Santa Ana," said R. L. Bisby, "has been taken and has been taken with but fear or trembling, likewise with the sure foot of success, and is now bearing fruit in the woolen mill which I brought here through the means of the Industrial Fund. I also refer to the opening of the Santa Ana Cannery. A small amount of my money has been placed in the building for a number of years and I am glad that it is going to be opened for the benefit of the community. One of these industries will give employment to about forty people the entire year and the other to about 150 people six months of the year."

"As chairman of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce I betray no confidence when I say to you that there are several good and valuable manufacturing propositions under way. That undoubtedly will be a great financial and industrial benefit to our community."

"This shows development industrially. Let us not only develop industrially, but develop scientifically, industrially. By this I mean let us get busy and regulate the manufacturing interests according to the location most essential with reference to the interests of our community."

"Several years ago Long Beach had not the population we have at the present time, yet from 1900 to 1910 it made the phenomenal growth of 68.8 per cent, which gave it the title of the fastest growing city in the United States. This growth being so rapid and phenomenal, was not scientifically regulated, consequently it developed a lopsided city which cost hundreds of thousands of dollars to correct and the waste of much valuable time. Not only was it expensive to change and regulate the industrial district of the city of Long Beach, but

It caused factional feeling and friction between the citizens and the city government, which to my mind is worse than any money loss. Let's avoid this.

"Industrial improvement and city planning are one and the same thing. They are twin brothers walking hand in hand on the road of progress and one can only grow as fast as his growth is taken care of. City planning is the working drawings of a city, the same as an architect executes his working drawings for a house and writes his specifications as to how these drawings should be carried out."

"In Germany the growth of a city is planned for fifty years ahead. Plans have been made to take care of the growth of that city in every detail for that time. When the city of Torrance was to be laid out a representative of the company was sent to Germany to study its industrial centers and plan a city that would be correct in every detail, mind you not only for the location of the building in which the manufacturing was to be done but the civic center, the homes of the workmen, the amusements; in fact, every little detail that was necessary for a complete city, was worked out and put on paper. It is not necessary for me to tell you the result, you know the largest manufacturing enterprise of Los Angeles and branches from Eastern cities are located in Torrance, and yet Torrance has not the natural facilities or the enterprises that we have, yet Torrance has overcome this lack of natural facilities by planning a city in such a way that this lack would be minimized."

"I say in the city of Santa Ana there should be established traffic arteries that would take care, not only of the business at the present time, but the business to come, and the civic center will develop."

Bisby advocated the appointment of a committee on city planning for Santa Ana.

GAS KILLED BOY, IS VERDICT IN
'APPLE' DEATH

Carbon monoxide gas from a ventless gas heater caused the death of Fred Rurup, son of William Rurup of Orange, Saturday night.

This was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest held at Orange this morning.

A telegraphic report received by Jorner Winbigger from Dr. Arthur K. Maas, Los Angeles chemist, stated that there were traces of carbon monoxide in the blood of the dead boy and that there were no traces of poison in the stomach nor upon the appliances used by the Rurup family. This telegram was read at the inquest.

Witnesses were Dr. A. H. Domann county physician; Dr. J. C. Crawford; Fred Grote of the firm of Ehlen & Grote; Hugo Lempe, deliveryman for Ehlen & Grote; Walter Gerken, part owner of the house occupied by the Rurup family, and William Rurup.

Those on the jury were: W. G. Hagen, foreman; J. F. Donovan, J. L. Kobler, J. D. Porter, R. S. Rice and H. Wyneken.

District Attorney L. A. West was present and assisted Coroner Winbigger in questioning the witnesses.

BOOKS BEING SOLD

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The late Col. H. P. Huntington's nephew, Henry E. Huntington, who married his uncle's widow and who has spent three of the fifty million dollars the railroad baron left him, for rare books, will sell $100,000 worth of duplicate volumes at auction at the Anderson galleries here, today and tomorrow.

Huntington possesses probably the most remarkable and valuable library in the country and one of the finest in the world. It is believed that before he has done his collections will be unrivaled by that of any collector past or present.

Huntington bought a million dollars worth of books from the Hoe collection alone. He paid half a million cash for the Duke of Devonshire's library and has bought a dozen other world famous collections from which he has skimmed the cream and disposed of the balance. He employs a small army of cataloguers and assistants and spends a fortune annually for the care of his books.

It is believed that Huntington intends to center his main collection at his home in Los Angeles. He is at present living on Fifth avenue in New York, but he has shipped several hundred thousand dollars worth of his books to the west coast and there is talk that he may erect a special library for them.

Collectors are here from throughout the country today to bid for the rare volumes Huntington offers. This is partly due to the fact that not only does Huntington possess one, but in some cases several and in a few instances all the rare first editions of mighty rare volumes.

EDITOR TELLS OF ARREST OF
BIKE DEALEREfforts to Settle Case Out of Court Detailed On the Witness Stand

Robert Johnston, editor of the Anaheim Herald, was the principal witness today in the trial of the $12,500 damage suit brought by F. B. Kern, bicycle dealer of the Mother Colony, against John Kellenberger, city marshal, and Phillip Germann, deputy marshal, both of Anaheim. Kern is asking judgment because he was locked up for forty-five minutes on January 18, 1915.

Johnston's testimony was along the line of that given by Kern, who said that Kellenberger refused to give him a pick-up bicycle that Kern had said was his, Kellenberger declaring that he was not satisfied with the identification.

Kern remarked that if it was Bill Houts, a rival dealer, who claimed the wheel, Kellenberger would be carrying the bicycle down to him. This remark was resented by Kellenberger. According to Johnston on the conversation became "hot." Kellenberger finally declared that he would not let anyone talk to him as Kern was doing, and he took Kern into the city jail, where Kellenberger and Germann searched Kern. Johnston said that Kern appealed to the officer "as a man and a Mason" not to put him in jail.

Attorney A. E. Koepsel, who with Attorney H. G. Ames appears for the defense, asked Kern if there is anything in Masonry that says an officer who is a Mason shall not arrest another Mason. Kern said there was not.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Eganbrod, Anaheim banker, was called as a witness to a conversation held by a committee of Masons with Kellenberger and Kern, it being the desire of the committee to get the two men to settle the matter out of court. Kern insisted upon an apology being printed in the Anaheim papers, and Kellenberger refused to give an apology for publication. The prosecution brought in testimony concerning this committee meeting for the purpose of indicating that Kellenberger at the conference made admissions that he was not entirely in the right in arresting Kern. The cross-questioning of the defense indicated that its reply will be that Kellenberger in order to meet the wishes of the committee was willing to go part way, but would not go as far as Kern demanded.

Declaring that the publication of the reports of the arrest aggravated the damage alleged to have been done to Kern through his arrest, Attorney G. L. Keefe presented a number of newspaper articles printed by the Anaheim Herald. These articles were admitted by Judge West, who is hearing the case before a jury.
